

ESG data and reporting partner

Is this you?

You are an asset owner or manager struggling to understand and comply with voluntary and mandatory carbon disclosure requirements. You might not have the specialist carbon accounting skills or resource to meet stakeholder expectations – and could do with advice on how to best collect and store data about your portfolio’s environmental performance.

Benefits abound

Working with us will take the reporting burden away from your team so they can focus on value creation and improving the portfolio performance.

The world is changing

Industry bodies worldwide are releasing new disclosure standards, while governments, investors and benchmarking schemes are requiring ever greater disclosure at increasing levels of assurance. Occupiers are also looking to understand and reduce emissions from their rented spaces. Stakeholders are increasingly looking for clarity, transparency, and accountancy-level robustness in reporting.

How we help

We can support real estate clients with running comprehensive and insightful ESG data collection and reporting programmes. We can advise on and implement data collection to successfully close coverage gaps. We will give you dynamic insights into your portfolio performance, while meeting reporting requirements.

verco

Find out more